Principal's Message

GEO. M. NEWFIELD
Principal

A. R. ROMANOW
Vice-Principal

There are a great many ways of giving pleasure in life and many of these ways are little ways. Little ministries can add up to great missions. One of these little ways of giving pleasure is achieved by cultivating a kindly disposition and a pleasant manner. Although manners do not actually make the man, a man is better and more worthy because of any charm or kindness which he may manifest. We are all the time reading the exteriors of other people and judging the souls that dwell within by what the eyes and lips express. Many persons of really noble character are misjudged and underestimated because of some disagreeable mannerism that needlessly repels others. The diamond of character is there, but it is a diamond in the rough.

On the other hand, gentle words and gracious smiles charm every one upon whom they are exercised. It is difficult to quarrel with persons who control their tempers, or to resist a kind person, since kindness is a sort of magnetism that insensibly draws objects toward itself. No arguments are so winsome and persuasive as those of an unselfish courtesy and a frank friendliness.

Pleasant manners, of course, come more easily to some than to others, but they can be cultivated by all. A sunny temper is not only a natural gift, but can also be a steady growth. The kind and loving heart is the happy heart which manifests itself in cheerfulness of look and speech. There is sorrow enough in the world without adding to it by sour expressions and hateful manners. "A merry heart doeth good, like medicine." There is a tonic in innocent mirth. Anyone, who will, can be a sunbeam shining into some dark place to make the world a little brighter. A pleasant manner is, I think, a basic ingredient of success in all things. Therefore, I hope that the students of Hugh John Macdonald School will be blessed with the charm of a pleasant manner.

Choirs

Not too long ago, Mrs. McLuhan established two festival choirs. These choirs consist only of Grade 7 and 8.

On Wednesday, March 11th, Festival choir No. 1 performed at the Citizenship Court.

Mrs. McLuhan is now planning to combine the two choirs into one. We are preparing for the performance that will be given at the Graduation ceremonies in June. We are also planning ahead for the performances that will be given at the opening of our new auditorium, and other festivities in the coming year.

Hugh John News

There was some doubt as to whether the Hugh John News would get started this year. Since Mr. McGlenen was not at our school anymore, we were left without a staff advisor. But with much persuasion from the 9B boys, Mr. Favoni decided to try his luck at the job. The staff for the 1963-64 term was as follows:

Honorary Editor	--	Mr. G. M. Newfield
Staff Advisor	-- --	Mr. F. Favoni
Typing	-- -- --	Mrs. M. McIvor
		Miss C. Brown
Editor	-- -- --	Alexis Kehler
Assistant Editor	-- --	Sandra Krupa
Boys' Sports	-- --	Alec Papadakis
Girls' Sports	-- -- --	Pat Morrison
Fashions	-- -- --	Kathy Bueti
Humour	-- -- --	Vera Jasenovic
Puzzles	-- -- --	Bonnie Falloon
Movies	-- -- --	Inga Santl
Business Manager	-- -- --	Tom Rae
Art	-- -- --	Robert Wawrin
Interviews	-- -- --	Alex Kolesnyk
Circulation	-- -- --	Danny Krupa

With the exception of Xmas and Easter editions, the staff decided to give the newspaper out free of charge so that every student would receive one.

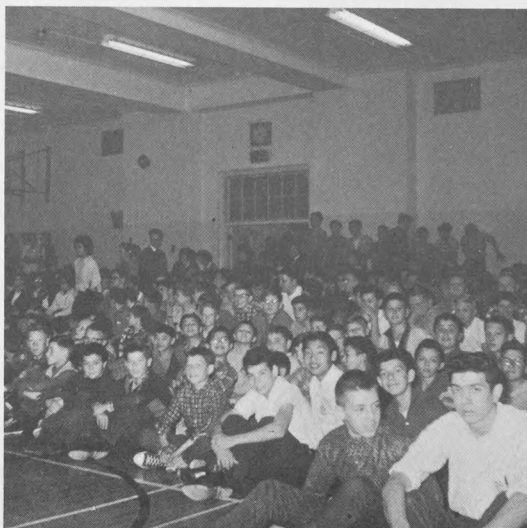

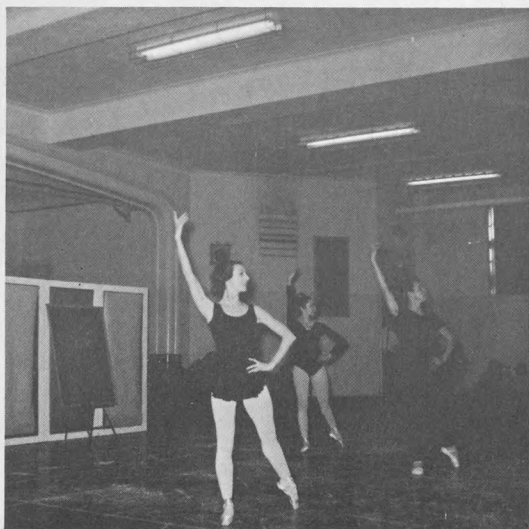

Without the co-operation of the students in submitting their articles, the stencilling done by Robert Wawrin, the typing done by the secretaries, and the many other important things that contribute to a newspaper, our own Hugh John News would never exist.

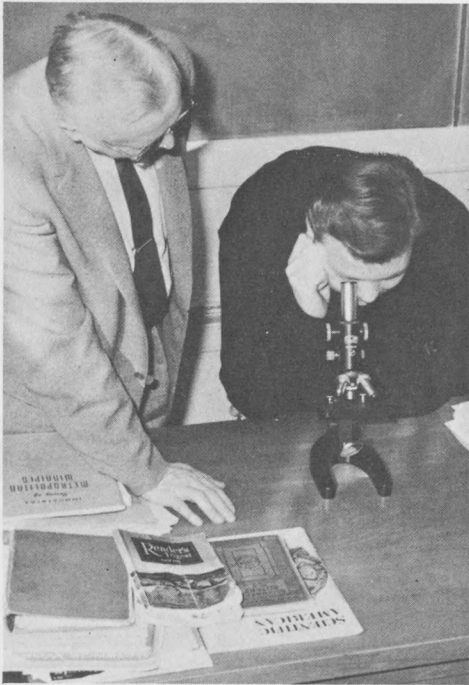

On behalf of all the students at Hugh John, I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Favoni for his valuable time and effort in helping to make the Hugh John News the great success that it was. Lastly, I would like to thank the students for submitting their many fine articles and I hope that the Grade 7 and 8 students will carry on the newspaper next year and make it even more successful than it has been in the past.
